RECALLS THE STRIKE

SEYMOUR SWAUGER MEM-

BER OF THE A. R. U.

Was a Coal Heaver at Kamela During Strenuous Times of 1894—Joined in the Strike, Was Discharged and Could Never Secure Work on the O. R. & N. Thereafter—Would Have Been One of the Oldest Engineers on the System Had He Remained at Work.

The old "A. R. U." membership card found in the pockets of Seymour Swauger, who was mangled under the train near Bingham Springs, Saturday morning, recalls one of the most interesting periods of railroading on the O. R. & N. system.

When the great American Railway Union, the order started by Eugene V. Debs in 1894, reached Oregon, Swauger was working as a coal heaver at Kamela, and the little mountain town contained a population of at least 500 people, including railroaders and timbermen.

Four helpers were running out of Kamela and the eight crews all joined the A. R. U., together with Swauger, the coal heaver, all the section men and telegraph operators. When the strike was declared, the operator was the first man to be discharged, because he refused to send a telegraphic train order after the strike had been declared.

Then the trouble began. The coal heavers would not shovel enough coal to keep the engines alive, the engine crews were compelled to walk to La Grande because there were no trains running, and the matter of carrying the mail was beginning to trouble the officials.

A light engine in charge of W. J. Lindsay, then division roundhouse foreman at La Grande was run over the road and at Kamela someone threw rocks at the engine and at Lindsay, who was taking the place of an engineer. This act of violence was not sanctioned by the striking employees, and it is not known today who threw the rock, but the Kamela crews being on strike, were held responsible for the act, and when the strike was settled and the men went to work again the operator, firemen, coal heavers and several engineers at Kamela were not taken back.

The operator who was let out at that time, was kept out of the railroad service for six years, and one of the engineers was finally given work on the O. R. & N. after something over six years in the mines of Baker county, and the firemen and coal heavers never did get work again on this system.

Swauger was among the number. Had he been continued in the service and promoted in his regular turn, he would have been one of the oldest engineers on the Mountain division of the O. R. & N. system today.

BUCKLE COMPANY ORGANIZED.

J. A. Gavitt, Formerly of This City, Organizes Company With Capital Stock of $50,000.

In order to begin the manufacture of a patented harness buckle invented by himself, J. A. Gavitt, formerly of this place, has organized a company with a capital stock of $50,000 in Portland and will begin the manufacture and sale of the buckles to wholesale harness men.

Mr. Gavitt invented the buckle while residing in this city and thoroughly introduced them to every harness maker in the Inland Empire, before removing to Portland.

The buckle is an ingenious invention and cannot be adequately explained, but must be seen to be appreciated. It does away with several troublesome features of the old-style harness buckles, and promises to be a ready seller. Among those associated with Mr. Gavitt, are his son-in-law, W. M. Zehrung, formerly of the O. R. & N. general roadmaster's office in this city, Henry W. Behnke, and W. P. Andrews.

FOURTH GRADE AT ACADEMY.

School Board Fits Up the Room in the North Side.

Forty pupils, the entire fourth grade at the high school building, in the charge of Miss Haley, has been transferred to a room in the Pendleton Academy. The room at the academy will be at the disposal of the Pendleton school district until the new buildings are completed and ready for occupancy.

The transfer of one grade will do much toward relieving the congestion that has existed ever since the fall term of school convened. When bonds were first voted for the construction of three new school buildings it was thought the houses would be completed by the middle of October, but it is now feared it will be the latter part of January before the rooms are in readiness.

Women's Club Meeting.

Et. Wayne, Ind., Oct. 25.—Club Women from nearly all the chief cities and towns of the state are gathered in Et. Wayne for the fifteenth annual convention of the Indiana Union of literary clubs. The convention opens this evening with a general reception. Judge Robert S. Taylor will deliver the address of welcome and the president, Mrs. Eva E. Robb, of Wabash, will present her annual address. The remaining sessions will occupy Wednesday and Thursday and an interesting program of papers, addresses and discussions has been arranged.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowing-up of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

$5.00 for the best Guess

We will give a cash prize of $5.00 to the one who guesses the nearest to the number on the bottle in our window.

A guess with every 50c purchase. The beans will be counted on Saturday night, October 29 o'clock, by a committee selected from those present at the time, and the one who has guessed to the correct number will be given the $5.00. If anyone is so fortunate as to guess the exact number that one will get an additional prize of $5.00, making a total of $10.00 for an exact guess. We want your trade and offer this inducement for this week.

Duplicate tickets will be kept and we will know who wins even if the winner is not present Saturday night when the beans are counted.

We guarantee absolute fairness in this contest. Not an employee nor even the proprietors will know the number of beans in the bottle, and we will keep a duplicate record of tickets and there will be no chance of fraud of any kind. No employees will be allowed to guess in this contest.

Make a guess for every 50c purchase and have it recorded. You may get $10.00. Trade week and try for the Cash Prize.
